Clark County Health District Center Dedicated to Former Chief Health Officer

(Las Vegas, Nev. - January 29, 1999) – The Clark County Health District's main center, located at 625 Shadow Lane, was officially renamed the Otto H. Ravenholt, M.D. Public Health Center at the District Board of Health Meeting on January 28, 1999.

Before retiring in 1998 Dr. Ravenholt served as the Health District's first Board appointed Chief Health Officer for Clark County. Under Dr. Ravenholt's tutelage the Health District evolved into a financially sound structure that not only met the needs of a small community in 1963, but allowed for the development and expansion of programs that anticipated the future needs of the fast growing metropolitan area that Clark County is today.

In an effort to continue to meet the expanding health needs of the community the Health District recently opened its newest center located in the Sunrise Market Place Shopping Center at 560 North Nellis. This facility offers health services to the East Las Vegas community including immunizations, well baby check-ups, birth and death records and health cards. Additionally, David Rowles, the Health District's director of administrative services, announced plans to begin construction of a new facility that will serve residents of North Las Vegas.

The opening of these new facilities will allow the Clark County Health District to continue to meet the growing needs of the community as it provides preventive health services, environmental programs and health enhancement activities for the people of Southern Nevada
