Public Health Update – Flu Vaccine #2

December 9, 2003, 1:00 p.m.

The Clark County Health District has enough flu vaccine remaining to accommodate the people currently at the Ravenholt Public Health Center. At this time, people are advised to call the health district immunization project at (702) 383-1351 for updates, as vaccine supplies will be depleted before the close of business. Small quantities of the flu vaccine are expected late this week or early next week, but the exact timing is unknown.

The health district continues to work with distributors and its local, state and federal partners to secure additional vaccine. A media advisory will be issued by the district as new vaccine supplies arrive.
